El Segundo Travel and Transportation

El Segundo may be a small community, but there's no shortage of ways to get here. In fact, few places can offer a location as well suited for the go-anywhere demands of business and industry. In a mere five-square-mile radius, area businesses have access to two major freeways, a light rail station, a bus depot and LAX. We're still working on the shuttle launch pad.

A hop, skip and a jump from practically everywhere. El Segundo is a backyard community. Of course, that backyard does include LAX. Which means you're never too far away from where you want to be.

GARDENA

Transportation Department

The Transportation Department is responsible for providing Gardena residents with transportation services and for coordinating Gardena's transportation services with neighboring cities and the County of Los Angeles in a joint effort to develop a regional transportation plan. The Gardena Municipal Bus Lines operates as an enterprise fund separate from the City's General Fund operations. Major divisions of the Department are:

Administrative Unit - records management, reporting, funding, and procurement services for the Department.

Transportation Unit - coach operators, route supervision, street operations, and service delivery (Fixed-Route).

Maintenance Unit - mechanical repairs and preventative maintenance on vehicles and support equipment; compliance assurance and reporting on related mandates.

Special Transit Unit - demand/response service (door-to-door) for the elderly and handicapped.

The Gardena Municipal Bus Lines

The Gardena Municipal Bus Lines (GMBL) manages 49 full-size diesel buses and 10 demand response vehicles. Utilizing 39 peak hour buses, the GMBL is an integral part of the Los Angeles regional transit system. GMBL provides low cost, easily accessible public transportation for some 18,000 riders on an average weekday. By connecting with the Blue Line rail system, the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) and other area municipal bus services, riders can easily commute throughout the South Bay into downtown Los Angeles and to a variety of locations in surrounding areas. In addition to the primary fixed route schedules, the demand response vehicles provide much needed mobility to many area elderly and handicapped people who otherwise would be unable to carry out the routines of their daily lives.

Gardena Municipal Bus Lines provides more than 400 bus stops throughout our service area. All bus stops are marked by bright Gardena bus stop signs. Look for the distinctive Gardena logo! Many stops offer a convenient bench and some have shelters. At several bus stops you will find a route map of the lines serving that location. These maps have been placed at major intersections and transfer points so you can see just where the bus will take you. Special maps also list service hours and the approximate time between buses. Remember, all Gardena bus lines meet at the intersection of Gardena Blvd and Vermont Ave, so you can always get a connection to your destination.

Gardena Special Transit

Gardena Special Transit is sponsored by the City of Gardena, the City of Hawthorne and Los Angeles County. As lead jurisdiction, the City of Gardena, through Gardena Municipal Bus Lines (GMBL), is pleased to offer transportation service for senior citizens (elderly) and physically disabled (handicapped) residents of Gardena, Hawthorne and certain unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County (Alondra Park and Del Aire). In providing door-to-door demand responsive service (commonly known as dial-a-ride service), elderly and handicapped citizens can travel to any destination within our service areas and major activity centers in adjacent jurisdictions.

For detailed information, please call:

Gardena Special Transit
(310) 715-6646

Token Fare Program

The City of Gardena is pleased to announce a new Token Fare Program. The South Coast Air Quality Management District's Regulation XV required companies with one hundred or more employees to develop their own transportation plan by early 1990. Recently, the Los Angeles City Council passed a complementary ordinance requiring that all city-based companies subject to Regulation XV, must subsidize employee parking, and offer rideshare incentives.

The City of Gardena Municipal Bus Lines offers fare tokens for potential patrons who are required to participate in this program. Requests for participation have come from Boeing Aircraft, Transamerica- Occidental, Unocal, Transamerica finance corporation, Matrix Sign Corporation and Torrance Memorial Hospital to assist in the implementation of a fare subsidy program for their employees by providing this non-cash fare system to facilitate the purchase of bus service on a monthly basis.
